

Your team. Your terms. Objective, dedicated and on-call, always

Surrounding every program participant with tenured global expertise, wherever they are, whenever they need it.

“One measurable benefit from this program is the influence that participants now have on the rest of the organization. The flow-on effect of their high-performance behaviors is driving improved performance and behaviors of their entire team.”

Individual Advisory Program

Delivering an unrivalled value proposition by integrating executive coaching and mentorship together with unrestricted access to the business subject matter expertise of the CSaaS Advisory Board.

Working hand-in-hand with our Executive Coaches, these Advisors bring contextualized business insights and best practices to every program participant, enriching their leadership development and empowering them to drive exceptional business outcomes.

This well-rounded approach has been proven to deliver incremental value to participants, boosting their capabilities and accelerating their growth as effective business leaders. Our battle-tested business advisors have all hired, coached and mentored to success teams of their own and bring domain expertise in the mission-critical areas of sales, marketing, business strategy, effective negotiation, technology infrastructure and roadmap planning, legal, compliance and business finance.

We challenge the status-quo and provide independent, objective and contextual validation to day-to-day and strategic challenges. The CSaaS Coach / Advisory Board partnership is perfectly positioned to help your people grow, develop and excel on their mandate, while flourishing in today's priority of work-life harmony.

How It Works

You are enrolled in the program and we assign your EBP.

Your Executive Business Partner is your leadership coach and prime point of contact, who also facilitates regular interactions with various business mentors from the CSaaS Advisory Board. Your EBP gets to know you and understand your business, your professional goals and the business initiatives that form part of your mandate.

02

You and your EBP quickly develop a value-based relationship and are jointly responsible for driving the relationship to success. A regular but flexible cadence is established and all the CSaaS resources are made available to you.

03

Whatever your personal or professional goal, whatever the challenge, whatever the initiative, we come together as one, for you!
